

Data Protection People is an established provider of data protection and information governance solutions. We are a niche, data protection specialist employing a team of experienced, dedicated and pragmatic data protection professionals. We pride ourselves on our can do consultative approach to help clients prepare for and then maintain compliance after May 2018 when GDPR takes effect.

“The policies provided by DPP for our GDPR compliance project, really emphasised what a stress free process this all was - working in conjunction with DPP we had confidence that the whole process of GDPR compliance would be efficient and streamlined, and the fact that they also created the outline framework meant that it saved us so much time”.

Gap Analysis

Our GDPR gap analysis involves a data protection and information governance review. The gap output includes a detailed report of our findings along with guidance on any compliance risks identified and a bespoke action plan setting out the tasks required to achieve GDPR compliance. Starting with a detailed desk research process to review existing policies, procedures and documentation, followed by a site visit to observe data handling practices, a RAG rated findings report is then submitted.

Deep Dive

Where a gap analysis is designed to provide an overview of a business as a whole, a deep dive is intended as a more detailed and specific review with a much narrower focus.

Some examples of typical deep dive projects include:

- Data Audit
- Staff Training and awareness
- Supply chain due diligence
- Analysis of CCTV usage
